More particularly, this invention relates to a process for producing a cellulose foam having high bulk density and uniform cell size and/or shape. Cellulose foams are widely used as packing materials, insulators, and heat insulators, and more recently, as a material for blown films. Because the processes for producing cellulose foams have hitherto been carried out batchwise, they have involved such problems as an inability to produce cellulose foams in high volume and in uniform cell size and/or shape. As a process for producing a cellulose foam, there is known a process described in Japanese Patent Laid-Open No. 298,029/1988. This process comprises uniformly mixing a substantially anhydrous aqueous solution of carboxymethyl cellulose and a substantially water-free mineral oil, followed by extrusion through a die under pressure to obtain

"We...How to Reduce Taxes With an NDA Our Prostitution Prevention Act (PPA) would cut the ad and services taxes that sex workers pay. A membership that includes the PPA will reduce some of the costs and thus increase a worker's bottom line. It will also reduce the illegal costs sex workers pay in advertising. We estimate that more than half the cost of advertising is currently covered by ads run in all the trade journals. No sex worker can afford to pay the $500 a year for advertising listed in some of those magazines. We estimate that it would cost less than $500 to offer the PPA. Currently each sex worker pays $50 per year for ads in escorting services. A sex worker with the PPA could get the same exposure at a fraction of the cost. How do we pay for the PPA? The main expense is establishing the membership and convening the advisory council. The advisory council will help set the structure for the membership's operations. There are not enough money from the sex workers and their clients to pay for the entire cost of PPA. We could ask for contributions from the states to cover the cost of setting up the advisory council and for the membership. Should the ad tax be eliminated? No. Of the 57 states, 43 have some form of prostitution control or prohibition law. In addition, there are four states that consider prostitution to be a business. These states have the authority to license or regulate the payment of sex workers. They also have the authority to require workers to keep records that give the state the right to inspect the records. They also may charge an excise tax on sex work. In addition, they may use the tax money to pay for advertising. In fact, sex workers in Colorado have just been subjected to an advertising tax that adds $10,000 a month to the cost of their services. New York City passed an ad tax in 2001. Sex workers paid more than $18,000 for advertising in the back pages of the New York Post. A poster advertising services can cost as much
